

The Sunset Blues - B

4 x riff before singing

The sun goes down
in the middle of nowhere.
and I reached my final limits with no more hiding places.

The lighthouse revolves in the sky, with nobody but me around and the sea growls like, the hell I finally found..

But now I'm here with my 'all scattered' mind
Tryin' hard to find the reason why I've been so blind.

Dmin7	Emin7	Gmin7	F#min7
Can I expect to see you again, and wipe away all these sad days,
Gmin7	F#min7	B
or will I be trapped for ever in this Sunset Blues..

It's been so long now
since I've sensed your sweet smell
These waves remind me.. of your soft and wavy body

Now I'm sitting here with so much in my brain

These last few days, they drove me so insane

And now you're gone, you made all this empty space.

please help me put all this puzzle in place.

Can I expect to see you again, and wipe away all these sad days,
or will I be trapped for ever in this Sunset Blues..

-----SOLO-----

now I can see the sun rising over my head
The wind is blowing gently, finally I can see ahead

Now I understand that you'll never come back again
but I keep on trying to find the reason for such pain
But now I'm here with my 'all scattered' mind
Tryin' hard to find the reason why I've been so blind.

Can I expect to see you again, and wipe away all these sad days,
or will I be trapped for ever in this Sunset Blues..

Can I expect to see you again, and wipe away all these sad days,
or will I be trapped for ever... ----pause---- in this Sunset Blues..
